Fine metalworking skills have been achieved to offer the highest standards in reviving period ironwork and fashioning contemporary designs. Chris Axelsson's work is hand-forged and lends an organic quality to materials such as iron, copper and bronze.

Honored with numerous gold medals from the National Ornamental Metals Association, the artist's private and corporate commissions include sculpture, lighting, gates and furniture. A line of fine furnishings is offered in the form of tables, beds, lamps, candleabras and fireplace implements. Axelsson is accustomed to working closely with architects, owners and design firms. Installation is available nationwide. A design and production period is required for major commissions.

Inquiries are welcomed.
